On 22 June, members of nature organisations from around the UK will join a march to Restore Nature Now in London. This family-friendly demonstration aims to be the biggest gathering of people for nature that the UK has ever seen. It is both a celebration of British nature and a call for urgent political action to address the nature and climate emergencies. The LNHS has joined over 300 other nature groups, including the National Trust, Wildlife Trusts and RSPB, as supporters of this event. If you would like to participate on the day, you can sign up and get more information at https://www.restorenaturenow.com
